Product Description

Geely Xingyue I Miscellaneous box frame assembly

Geely Xingyue L sundry box frame assembly has the following characteristics:

Advantages:

1. Reasonable space planning: can make full use of the limited space in the car and provide a large storage volume of debris.
2. High-strength materials: strong and durable materials are used to ensure that they are not easily deformed or damaged during long-term use.
3. Good sealing: effectively prevent the entry of dust, water vapor, etc., and protect the cleanliness and dryness of stored items.

Principle:

Through the carefully designed structure and layout, the orderly storage of debris is realized. Its frame structure is usually based on mechanical principles and can withstand certain pressure and shock to ensure the overall stability.

Technology:

Advanced injection molding technology or stamping technology may be used to ensure the accuracy and quality of the frame.

Workmanship:

1. Fine edge treatment: no sharp corners to avoid scratching items or passengers.
2. Smooth surface: easy to clean and keep tidy.

Features:

1. Humanized design: Considering the convenience of user use, it may be equipped with separation, hooking and other functions.
2. Coordinate with the interior style of the car: integrate with the interior of the car in appearance to improve the overall beauty.

Function:

1. Provide a convenient storage place for sundries to make the space in the car more tidy and orderly.
2. Protect debris from damage, especially some fragile or important small items.
3. Enhance the practicality and comfort in the car, and improve the user's driving experience.
