Product Description

Geely Xingyue I subwoofer

Geely Xingyue L subwoofer has the following characteristics:

Advantages:

1. Powerful bass output: It can produce a deep and powerful bass effect, enhancing the atmosphere and shock of the music.
2. High-fidelity sound quality: restore the bass details in the music and provide clear and realistic sound.
3. Good compatibility: perfectly cooperate with the in-car sound system to improve the overall sound quality performance.

Principle:

Through a large diaphragm area and special voice coil design, a large vibration is generated under the drive of the audio signal, thus pushing a large amount of air and producing strong low-sound waves.

Technology:

1. Using high-quality magnet material: it provides a strong magnetic field to make the drive of the speaker more stable and efficient.
2. Advanced acoustic design: optimize the cavity structure and inverted hole design of the speaker to improve the transmission and diffusion effect of bass.

Workmanship:

1. Precise assembly process: ensure that each component is tightly connected and reduce resonance and noise.
2. High-quality material selection: such as durable diaphragm material and strong shell material.

Features:

1. Large-size diaphragm: helps to produce stronger bass.
2. Unique protection design: prevent dust and water vapor from entering and extend the service life.

Function:

1. Enrich the range of the sound in the car: make up for the lack of bass performance of the mid-treble speakers and make the sound of the whole sound system fuller and more balanced.
2. Improve the auditory enjoyment of drivers and passengers: provide an immersive music experience while driving to reduce fatigue.
3. Enhance the attractiveness of the in-car entertainment system: bring higher-quality sound effects to users and increase the added value of the vehicle.
