In terms of quality, high-quality materials are selected, with excellent durability and wear resistance. After strict quality testing, it can withstand various tests in daily use and maintain a good state for a long time.

Comfort is a highlight. The angle design of the backrest is reasonable, which can effectively fit the curve of the back of the human body and provide good support. The shape and contour of the left backrest are ergonomically optimized to offer excellent lumbar support, reducing fatigue during long journeys. The stitching and detailing are precise, adding to the overall aesthetic appeal.

This component is engineered to integrate seamlessly with the rest of the rear seat, creating a unified and harmonious look. It also undergoes rigorous quality control tests to meet the highest standards of safety and performance.
