Product Description

Geely Binyue plastic black and white front door opening handle can open and close the door.

Description:

In terms of material, the outer handle may be made of high-strength plastic or other durable materials, which has a certain degree of firmness and wear resistance.

In terms of design, it is coordinated with the overall shape of the body, and the lines are smooth, which is in line with the fashionable appearance style of Geely Binyue. The shape and size of the outer handle are carefully designed to conform to ergonomic principles, which is convenient for drivers and passengers to grasp naturally and comfortably.

The location is reasonably set so that the driver and passenger can easily touch the door without excessive stretching or laborion.

In actual use, the external handle is easy to operate. You can easily open the door by gently pulling or pulling.

In addition, the outer door handle of Geely Binyue has also undergone strict quality testing to ensure that it can work stably and reliably under various environmental conditions, with good durability and service life.

Some functions may also be integrated on the external handlebar of some models, such as induction unlocking, which improves the convenience and sense of technology of the vehicle.

Applications:

First of all, its most basic purpose is to facilitate drivers and passengers to open the door. Whether the driver is ready to get on the car or the passenger gets on and off the bus, just hold the outside handle and gently pull or pull it to easily open the door, providing a convenient way to get in and out of the vehicle.

Secondly, the opening handle outside the door also plays a role in the safety of the vehicle. In an emergency, such as when the vehicle breaks down, encounters an accident or is in danger, the driver and passenger can quickly escape by opening the door by opening the handle to ensure the safety of life.

In addition, it is also part of the overall design of the vehicle. Geely Binyue's door opening handle has been carefully designed and integrated with the body lines and shape. It not only has practical functions, but also adds beauty and coordination to the appearance of the vehicle, and improves the overall quality and image of the vehicle.

In addition, some models with higher configurations may also integrate inductive unlocking, keyless entry and other functions, which further improves the convenience and intelligence of use.

In a word, although the handle outside the door of Geely Binyue seems simple, it plays an important role in daily use, safety and vehicle appearance.
